

A proposal typically comes first, prepared by the designer or creative team that outlines project scope, services provided, cost estimates, project and fee payment schedules and terms and conditions.